

4. North Carolina Web site:

In April 2010, North Carolina Division of Water Resources launched a new web page dealing with Ecological Flows. It is

http://www.ncwater.org/Data\_and\_Modeling/eflows/

It covers some basic background, has numerous links to additional information, describes the NC Hydrologic Stream Classification System, and outlines our plans to develop an approach for determining the ecological flows needed for river basin modeling and planning.

Contact person for more information on instream flow matters in North Carolina is Jim Mead, Environmental Supervisor <Jim.Mead@ncdenr.gov>
